

...were then visiting there, to proceed on the Newfoundland and fishery.

APRIL 25. It is said a stop is ordered to be put to the further exportation of military stores to Portugal.

Some letters from Leghorn mention, that the Senate of Genoa begin to doubt much whether France would send a body of their forces to Corsica; and it was said, the Republic intended to make application elsewhere, for troops to occupy their garrisons in that Isle.

From Berlin, we are informed, that great part of the King of Prussia's time is at present employed in endeavouring to improve and extend the commerce of his subjects throughout all his dominions.

APRIL 26. They write from Copenhagen, that a very terrible eruption of fire had lately happened at Mount Hecla, in Iceland, that the ships docks, several miles distant in the road, had been covered with ashes, and that the effects of the volcano were felt all over the island.

A Plan is now under consideration for making the Island of Bermuda a free Port, in consequence of some Petitions laid before the Lords of Trade and Plantations, for the better promoting of Trade and Commerce.

Orders are given to the men of war that are destined to sail for Newfoundland, to take on board an additional number of seamen, who are to be employed in manning a number of sloops and small vessels, for the better protection of that trade.

APRIL 27. Some letters from Warsaw advise, that the new Confederates of Podolia have made themselves masters of the castle of Bar as well as the fortress of Kaminieck, and that the number of gentlemen who have joined them is estimated at eight thousand. 'Tis added, that all the members of the Confederacy have engaged themselves by the most solemn oath not to discover any of their projects, that their conduct seems to be very regular, and that they pay ready money for every thing they stand in need of.

Letters from Paris mention, that orders are given for the immediate embarkation of a body of troops, supposed to be destined for Corsica.

APRIL 29. A correspondent with great positiveness assures, that the Rev. Mr. Kidgell, of whom no certain intelligence has ever been made public, lies buried in Dover church-yard, to which place he went in order to embark for France, soon after his first disappearing. This correspondent says, he saw him at Dover, that he was under great dejection of spirits, and supposed he died broken hearted.

Robert Wilnot, Esq; son of the Right Hon. Lord Chief Justice Wilnot, is appointed Chief Secretary to the Governor, and Pay-master of all the garrisons and forces at Bengal in the East-Indies.

It is reported that a noble D— has offered his advice, that as gentle measures as the nature of the thing will admit of, may be used on a certain occasion.

Wednesday morning came on, in the Court of King's Bench, Westminster, before the Right Honourable Lord Chief Justice Mansfield, the grand cause between the College of Physicians and the Licentiates, when, after a long hearing, which lasted till near three o'clock, a verdict was given in favour of the former.

Letters from Fort St. David's, by the Helder East-India-man, mention, that some additional works were making to that place, so as to make it, in a great measure, impregnable against the future attempts of any enemy whatever.

APRIL 30. The 20th instant, Lord Mansfield acknowledged that the amendment in the information against Mr.
Wilkes was so essential, that without such amendment, it must have fallen to the ground, unless the whole was fully proved, or had there been the alteration of so much as a single letter. His Lordship also allowed the Court had a discretionary power to admit of Bail, even in the Case of High Treason, but the 27th following, his Lordship declined this humane power, notwithstanding Mr. Wilkes had the Writ of Error already admitted by the Court.

To the many arbitrary and oppressive measures taken against Mr. Wilkes, may be added, that on the 19th instant, when he dined with his friends at the King's Arms Tavern, Cornhill, he was served in the midst of them, by an Agent of the Secretary of the Treasury, with an Exchequer Writ and bill of discovery, upon an information, (consisting of many sheets of paper) in order, should the outlawry remain, to discover and seize all his effects, even the small pittance generously subscribed by his fellow subjects for discharging his debts, as being in Law forfeited to the Crown, and in case the outlawry was reversed, then to oblige him to prove in an unusual way, his full qualification to sit in the House as Knight of the Shire, as well as to give him as much variation, and put him to as great expence as was possible.

Thursday night the mob assembled in St George's Fields with pick-axes, &c. and attempted to pull down the prison walls of the King's Bench where Mr. Wilkes was; but Mr.
Wilkes hearing of it, spoke to them from the window, persuading them to disperse and go home quietly, and they immediately diffused; a party of Guards came, but the mob drove them away by pelting them with stones, &c. they afterwards broke several windows in the Borough, and did other mischief before they went away.

Thursday night a great number of people assembled in and about the Borough, the houses were illuminated, bonfires made, and a Jack Boot hung on a gibbet and then burnt, a flag was also hung up with Wilkes and Liberty wrote thereon.

It is confidently asserted, that Mr. Wilkes was not the author of the political paper, (which rather than at that time give up his friends) has brought him into so much trouble; that the late Messrs. Charles Churchill and Robert Lloyd were the absolute writers of the celebrated North Briton, No. 45, during a few days absence of Mr. Wilkes in the country.

On the motion made on Wednesday by Mr. Wilkes's Council for admitting him to bail, which was argued by Mr. Serjeant Glyn, Mr. Recorder of London, Mr. Morison, &c. for the Defendant, and argued by the Attorney General, and Sir Fletcher Norton, for the Crown: It was asserted that there was no precedent of a person, under a criminal prosecution, being admitted to bail after conviction, and that if such indulgence was shown, a man who flies from the justice of his country, and is thereupon outlawed, would be in a better situation than one who submits to it; as in the latter case, after conviction he must remain in custody till sentence is passed, whereas in the former case he would be at large.

It is said, three hundred thousand pounds bail was refused on Wednesday at a certain place.

Thursday Mr. Wilkes had a great leave, and great numbers of persons gathered continually about the King's Bench Prison.

This week several meetings of the most considerable Freeholders of the county of Middlesex, in the interest of John Wilkes, Esq; were held at different places to consider of the present urgency of that Gentleman's Affairs.

Yesterday a Turtle of One Hundred and Forty five Pounds weight, was sent by Lewis Mander, Esq; to John Wilkes, Esq; in the King's Bench, being the first Turtle that has been brought this year to England.

Mr. Wilkes sent some of his friends, Yesterday, to Westminster and Spitalfields, to desire the populace not to come in parties, or assemble themselves about the King's Bench prison.

'Tis very remarkable that the twenty-three men who drove the hackney coach, in which were Mr. Wilkes and the tipstaff, &c. had between them just 45 eyes, 45 arms, and 45 legs.

The guards at the Tower are ordered to hold themselves in readiness to march at a minute's warning, if any disturbances should happen.

Yesterday there was a Levée at St. James's, but no Council; after breaking up of the Levée, Lord Mansfield had a long conference with his Majesty.

The 13th regiment of foot, commanded by Lieutenant General Murray, is ordered to be completed forthwith to its full number, in order to be embarked for Gibraltar, to relieve one of the regiments, which has been there the stated time of three years.

Letters from Dublin mention, that one hundred and ninety natives of that kingdom, had just embarked on board a ship in the River Liffey, for the Island of St. John's, Newfoundland, where they are going to settle.

This week grants for several thousand acres in West Florida were made out in favour of Gentlemen who had petitioned the Crown for lands to settle in that province.

We are assured that a certain Officer of Rank in the Navy, has proposed to erect an Equestrian Statue of his late Royal Highness the Duke of York, in the Area of the Royal Academy at Portsmouth, and has applied for leave to carry the same into execution, whereas others are desirous of having it fixed in the front of Greenwich Hospital towards the River Thames.

MAY 2. It is said the Right Hon. the Earl of Hillsborough will soon be appointed to succeed Lord Weymouth, as one of his Majesty's Secretaries of State.

It is rumoured that a certain popular Gentleman has been offered his pardon, on condition he will engage to stop prosecution against the E. of H.

The following Letter was sent on Friday to Mr. Reynolds, Attorney at Law, in Lime-street.

"SIR,

"The Writs of Error in the Case of my Outlawry being now allowed, I desire you to examine carefully into the state of the proceeding in the action I brought five years ago against Lord Halifax, for having dared to issue a General Warrant.
I think that action was suspended solely by his Lordship's plea, that I was outlaw'd. I hope to live to hear an English Jury, by a formal verdict, condemn a Secretary of State, who violated the first rights of this free Nation, the personal liberty of our countrymen, in the most outrageous illegal manner. I therefore beg you to lose no time in laying before my Council, every thing proper for the prosecution of this public cause, which no consideration shall make me decline or delay.
I thank you, Sir, for the daily proofs you give me of activity and zeal in the course of this great business, and desire you to believe me ever Your obliged humble Servant, JOHN WILKES."

King's Bench Prison, Friday, April 29.
XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

By the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esquire, Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief in and over his Majesty's said Province.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it has been represented to me, That divers dissolute and disorderly Persons have, of late, frequently assembled themselves together, in the North-Western Parts of this Province, in a riotous and unlawful Manner, to the Disturbance of the public Peace; and, particularly, have in the most illegal Manner, taken upon them to whip and confine several Persons, under the Pretence of punishing them for Crimes which they have charged against them, instead of delivering them into the Hands of public Justice, and have daringly resisted the Execution of the King's Process; and, that these Acts of Violence have been accompanied with Treats of still greater Outrages, which have spread Terror and Alarm amongst those most likely to be immediately affected thereby; and, that some of the said dissolute and disorderly Persons, have audaciously attempted to deter and intimidate the civil Magistrates from doing their Duty: I HAVE taken the same into serious Consideration; AND, being duly sensible of the mischievous Consequences that may ensue from the Continuance and Repetition of such Disorders, have thought fit, by and with the Advice of his Majesty's Honourable Council, to issue this my Proclamation, hereby strictly requiring and commanding all the Justices, the Provost Marshal, and all other the Peace Officers of this Province, that they do severally use their utmost Endeavours, by every legal Means in their Power, effectually to prevent and suppress all such Tumults and unlawful Assemblies; and, to that End, to put in due Execution the Laws for preventing, suppressing and punishing the same; and that all his Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects be aiding and assisting therein: AND FURTHER, that the Magistrates, and all others acting in Obedience to this Proclamation, may rely on the Protection and Support of the Law in so doing, as they shall answer at their Peril for the Neglect thereof.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of his Majesty's said Province, in Charles-Town, this third Day of August, Anno Domini, 1768, and in the eighth Year of his Majesty's Reign.

WILLIAM BULL.
By his Honour's Command, THOMAS SKOTTOWS, Secr.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Master, arrived here from Curacao: In whom came Captain John Bartlett and his Crew, taken out of the Brig Polly, who was cast away the 15th ult. on the Martieres, on her Passage from Jamaica to Boston—Captain Saxton could have saved a considerable Part of the Cargo of the Polly, had he not been drove off by the Wreckers from the Bahama Islands.

The same Day his Majesty's Packet Boat the Grantam, Capt. Jones, sailed with the Mail for Falmouth; in whom went Passengers, Philip Durrell, Esq; late Commander of his Majesty's Ship Cygnus, and most of the other Officers of the said Ship; as also Lieutenant Lennox, who lately came from Passaic.

and New-Providance, are expected here in a short Time.

Since our last Mr. Everleigh and Mr. Summers have arrived here from Bristol.

and from this Port for Jamaica, was lost on the 30th of May, on the French Keys; the People with great Difficulty saved their Lives.

Friday last Captain Todd arrived here from Jamaica, who informs us, that on Saturday the 30th ult. he was off the Martieres on Cape-Florida, where the Bahamians were at Work on the Wrecks of the following Vessels, viz. A Ship, said to be the Maria-Theresa Packet Boat, from Pensacola for this Port; a Spanish Ship of 18 Guns, from the Havana for Old Spain; and the Brig Polly, mentioned above. The Captain and Crew of the Packet were carried to Providence, with the Mails, in one of the Vessels belonging to the Wreckers, and the Spanish Captain and Crew were carried in another

CHARLES-TOWN, AUGUST 9.

A letter from Mr. JAMES COOK, Provincial-Surveyor, to a gentleman in this town, dated WATEREE, June 20, 1768.

SIR,

IN my last I promised you to communicate my observations of this province, as soon as I had finished the out lines of my survey; and you may fully persuade yourself, whatever errors I may be liable to, can only proceed from a fallibility of judgment. First, above Pine-Tree, now Camden, six or seven miles, begins the falls on the Wateree river, then are we about 160 miles from Charles-Town, and 40 from the province line. The river here is pretty straight, and the falls not steep and violent, but a strong current among huge loose rocks, with regular descents, for half a mile together, and good fords for carriages. Here is many rivers, creeks, and runs of water, all branches of this river, which will better be delineated on my draught than described here. The greatest freshes here is attended with no bad consequences, like where the streams is united lower down, the fords rarely being impassable two days together. The Waxhaw settlement joins on the line here, and is settled and improved beyond conception, mostly with Virginians and Pennsylvanians, whose industry and manufactures does them much credit, cultivating their lands by the manual labour of their own numerous families, having but few negroes: You will more readily perceive the improvements of this part, from a list of the marriages and christenings for the last year, from January 1, 1767, to January 1, 1768, marriages 103, christenings 323; this includes the Waxhaw and Fishing Creek settlements, which four years ago had not a house in every five mile square: The soil is good for various produce, and much room for more improvements, and will at some period be a respectable place and people. The numerous offspring of children, and their complexion, declare it a healthy situation, and many pleasing and enlarged prospects, interspersed with rising grounds, rivers, and fruitful vallies; without that disagreeable misty smoke arising by the putrid vapours which is common to the lower marshes of this vince. The river continues much above the line, as spoken of before, and heads in the mountains.

The Congaree river continues in many windings and turnings about 90 miles by water from the forks, the forks again makes Broad-river on the right, and Saluda on the left: Broad-river has many falls, yet by a little industry may be made navigable to the province line; and when there may, it is navigable almost to the mountains, which will greatly facilitate a communication with those parts, to the advantage of this province. The number of rivers, creeks, and branches of this river, enriches the whole country; and is thick settled, with a thriving people, the mark of industry and prudence. Much cannot be expected from a place in four years cultivation, and by a people not brought thither by the smiles of fortune: But to form a proportion, from the last four years improvements, will in a few years excel any common medium of calculation; on Turkey-creek, where was not a house or path four years ago, is now able to contribute to the building of a Meeting-house, and raise £.100 sterling per annum for the Minister. Saluda, Tiger, and other less but respectable rivers, may in time be made navigable for small craft, whose banks, waters, and even high land, is enriched with variety of good soil, plants, wood, and fish; all necessities of life flows in abundance, salt excepted; plenty of iron ore near navigation, whose real use surpasses that of gold. Here is many buffalo licks, a kind of earth the cattle is fond of, and resorts thither in the spring time in large herds, wild and tame, (the buffalos being wholly hunted out of this province, and fled to the mountains.) In this lick earth I have more reason than one to believe there is good salt petre.

Savannah-river is a large and noble river, but so many baronies hinder the settling of it like other places; neither do I see the advantage of these baronies to the proprietors, for whoever has holden one 30 years, has paid more in quit rents and taxes, then it will fetch at present; which is not the case of smaller tracts, liable to be wholly settled and improved. They are a kind of asylum for villains, who flies to elude justice, and settle on this river, that either live obscure or easily creep to the Creeks or Cherokees, and back again, as the case requires. Agriculture and manufactures makes a small progress here, but 'tis hoped it may mend in time, as the wisdom of the legislature has seen the benefits that may arise in future times, by encouraging the culture of hemp and flax with a bounty, and by endeavouring to establish courts, where justice may be administered to the remotest, on such a plan as may give a general satisfaction; I only mention this, having observed the joy, applause, and general satisfaction it seems to meet with, every honest man being glad to live under good subordination, and mutually partake of the benefits of such wholesome laws as secures his property and liberty, and that equality of justice, which seems to cement in strongest ties all societies of men.

I am, Sir, your most humble and obedient servant,

JAMES COOK.
